Are you one of the following?

- ~ a total beginner with no guitar experience whatsoever?
- ~ a player with some chops who's stuck in a technical or creative rut?
- ~ a seasoned shredder who wants to get deeper into chops and theory?
- ~ you just want to learn "Louie Louie" or "Stairway"?

I can help!

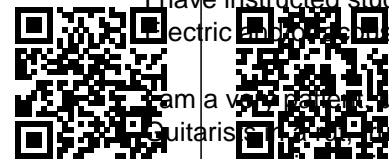

I am an alum of the Berklee College of Music in Boston and GIT/Musician's Institute in Los Angeles with over twenty years of guitar playing experience and over ten years of teaching experience.

I have instructed students of all ages and all levels of experience.

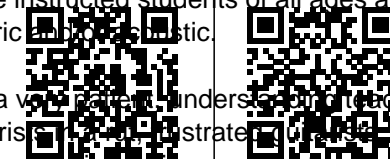

Electric, Acoustic.

I am a very patient, understanding teacher. Great with beginners. Guitarists who can't master a technique and then give up after many years with minimal improvement also a specialty. Late bloomers welcome too.

I am skilled in many styles, but especially the many facets of rock/blues/pop and jazz. I offer fun, thoughtful expert instruction to students of all levels: everything from simple rock, blues, or folk songs and riffs to more advanced areas, including jazz.

Most importantly, I teach according to your needs and goals as a musician. I don't force a program or curriculum -- I will help you become the guitarist YOU want to be. Each week we will expand your technique and knowledge while honing in on the sound and style you want.

I now have openings in my schedule and am offering a new student special: the first two lessons for $30- that's half a month of lessons for only $30 a week. Lessons would be once a week, an hour long. After the initial two, they would go up to $40- still a great, affordable rate. I also offer a special discounted monthly rate.

I have a flexible schedule and can travel to your location, if necessary.

Please email or call to discuss your needs. If you get my answering machine (you probably will), just leave a message with the best time to call you back.

Looking forward to hearing from you!
