So, I am looking for a fun person, outgoing and nice to enjoy activities together get active go on adventures. All of my friends are mostly in the military or moved, too busy or are too introverted which makes me super uncomfortable. I am a mixture of introversion & extroversion, once I am comfortable I can be super outgoing but I am kind of protective at first but I do open up once I establish trust. I am fun loving and just tired of working and dealing with annoying co-workers and boring introverted people. I enjoy tennis, volleyball, running, weights, HIITS training, gaming, you name it I will do it I just need to have some fun in my life I am so!
