Looking to get into something. I've got the gear.

I can play rhythm or lead guitar but prefer bands where it is more obscure and there aren't any specific roles like an awkward relationship.

Great at coming up with new ideas... I am constantly writing new things. At the same time I am looking to play and write as a group as well if possible.

I don't care about age personally but I'm 32.

I can play pretty much any instrument I get my hands on.

I don't drink or do drugs but if you do that is A ok with me.

Please if you have something recorded send it over. I don't care how crappy the recording is if you are decent then I will get the.
