QR Code Link to This Post My dog King is in search of a home where he can get more attention and space to run around. I've had to pick up more shifts at work leaving me with little time to look after him. He is about 5 months old and has his first round of shots. The idiots I got him from told me he had his first round but said they had no paperwork so he got his first round 2 weeks ago (rabies included with paperwork to verify). Rehoming fee applies. He comes with his bowls, toys, leash, collar, and walking harness. He is not fixed so that should be done at some point in the near future.

If you're interested email me telling me a little bit about yourself and why you think you'd be a good fit for King. Please include name and number in the email.

Again he needs a lot of time for exercise and playing so make sure you can offer that.
