Serious inquires only.

I'm looking for sessions playing, quality people of all musical backgrounds for several current music and multimedia projects.

I'm an independent, multi-published recording and performance artist. And I'm looking to tour the world by Spring or Summer of 2018 latest.

Let's leave our egos at the studio door and save it for the charismatic archetypes that draw our audience. Wow's them.

Contact me here and If we click then we can share material through various mediums.

I'm looking for serious minded quality musicians, who are easy to work with, who are comfortable in their own skin enough that allows me some slack to continue masterminding our next course of actions unfettered.

I need people with a certain courage as well as worldliness who can see the band's vision in this, and beyond in the other spin off multimedia projects.

One final note.

I'm not A and R, an agent, label, or any sort of entertainment management in theory, though worldly, basically put. "Cosmopolitan"
