QR Code Link to This Post I am a current Boise State Visual Arts Photography student and would love to join or even start a photography group. The school I transferred from had a very active photography club and just recently taking photos of the Milky Way out at Craters Of The Moon national park I encountered two classes from ISU and their professor. It was a blast hanging out with them and giving and receiving photography tips. I love to go out into the national parks to take photos but it's not so fun alone. I'm willing to meet up with photographers of all skill levels and don't mind showing what I know and would love to learn as well. If there is enough interest it would be great to set something up.

Some background info on me:

30 years old, US Navy Veteran, current BSU student as mentioned. Name is Aaron Bacus and Facebook/instagram is under Aaron T Studios for my photography. Below is some of the shooting I'd like to do in groups but I'm also open to cityscapes, street photography, studio sessions, editing stuff.
