QR Code Link to This Post That is right! I want to shoot your wedding ONLY with my iPhone. I am a professional photographer/videographer, and want to show that the creative eye is far more important than the tool. You can create something beautiful with the tools you have with you. I know this will get a ton of flack, and it will take the right couple, but I think we can create something very unique together. Only looking to do this for a SINGLE wedding so first come, first serve. Must be open to letting someone else "assist" me and film some behind the scenes footage of all this. Going to do some blog posts about the whole process and several short videos. Now, I can't do this for free, but will give you a good deal since this is a new territory. If you are interested, let's connect. Of course, an outside summer wedding is going to be best. If you are having your wedding and ceremony in a very low light dark location, I won't be a good fit. Thanks for reading!
