Looking for a male pup, older pup to adult. I use to raise Champion saints yrs back until my male died & broke my heart, I haven't gotten over his lose & love the breed. I am disabled now with advanced heart failure along with several other disabilities & have been begging my husband & family for another before I die. My brother along with his 2 sons are all state troopers who have police K9's & trained em. My dream is to have one trained for a service dog for me. I also have neuropathy in both my legs & feet now making it hard for me to walk or too far lol. But with a gentle giant again at my side, he would give me balance to enjoy outdoors again & any walk at any distance. I want to walk to all the flower gardens at our farm that my husband has made us, his huge vegetable garden that is over a acer, to just walk with our grandson's ages 3 & 4 & nor have to watch them play & run from a window. Please anyone that can help me find the perfect love again. My Kong was 258 lbs dry lol, gorgeous full black mask, rough coat that you could bury your face in, solid mahogany. We are located south of Hutchinson MN I am branching out of state as I have not found many breeders near us & those that are all pups have.
