I have a rather limited income at the moment, but I also I have an extra room to share this week. I am willing to barter for this. You may have free use of the room for up to 7 days (that's seven from the day of this posting, and will be less as the week goes on). What your provide is up to you. Please tell me about yourself and why you need a place to stay. I will meet the right candidates in public to discuss things further before I allow you into my.
