Atlanta based Event Production company is expanding into the Columbus market, dedicated to bringing the best EDM dance parties to this area. If you have ever been to QUAD in Atlanta, you know what we are talking about - paint parties, superstar DJs, themed events, etc.

EDM Events, with over 10 years hosting electronica and other music and commercial events is looking for an area marketing team and manager/coordinator.

The idea candidate is a fan of Electronica (tropical house, dubstep, Trap & Bass, trance, etc) and has some time during the week to hand out fliers and create and post notices of our upcoming events in the area. high school senior, college student, military or just a scenester with a lot of friends or just kandi kid wanting a new place to hang out and be a part of Columbus' biggest shows. An existing promotional or large social network gets you to the front of the line fast!

Volunteers hand out fliers and chat up the 18+up events with their peers. They get free admission and a chance to grab some bonus cash if the night does well. Once the night takes off, we start another one at another venue. A real hustler could build themselves up a full time job fast. And that is what we want - motivated people, ready for a change.

Online social coordinators can fatten up their experience with some time spent with us.

The coordinator will receive a small fee, and a bonus on each show. There will be opportunity for advancement, including paid gigs working the events in various staffing positions.

We are launching a new monthly in April, and once the team is up and running we will expand to other venues and even an outdoor street concert. We can have our own festival on the 'Hooch, and you can be on the ground floor.

And you can have a lot of fun partying all night in a safe and sane environment. Or you can take the money and call it a night. All positions contracted. ADA folks; we understand and work with our financial situations.

We do not require drug tests, sorry. Cash payout. No one is going to get rich right away. If you have the patience, you can incubate a part time gig into a new career. The cross training opportunities and networking with businesses in this industry are massive.

Equal Opportunity. It's the.
