LEGOS--Collection of historic LEGOS from 1950s to 1990. About 22 base plates, some trees, lots of monster tires and smaller monster tires and regular tires. Some mini-figs (~60) and a power unit (C battery operated I think). Thousands of pieces. Two Lego cases. You need a Lego Trunk for these if there is such a thing. I know that I purchased one "Boat" lego set and one "Space" lego set and more than one "Technic" lego set (the largest ones at the time because I was beginning to get the picture that there was no point in ordering anything small. There is a vintage and rare Lego space ship. Lots of stuff they don't make any more. I noticed that I can no longer order trees or monster tires or spare parts like these on the Lego site. $1200 takes this.
