2000 Toyota Celica GT-S, automatic. Car has been in a slight accident, and is missing right front quarter pannel with a slightly dented hood. As well as the washer fluid tank being destroyed. The accident occured in VA. I installed a replacement headlight shortly after, and have put over 600mi. since the incident. In the process of moving in a hurry, I had misplaced the title. The registration is in my name. And since the plates have been stolen from it, I really do not want to bother with it any longer. I really hate the idea of scrapping it, since it still runs and the engine has never given me any trouble. I'm asking for the best reasonable offer I can get. please text or e-mail. Front 2 tires are flat, as well as the spare seen in the picture, passenger tire has been sitting in the backseat. all tires have custom alloy rims. January 24th, and i really need this vehicle gone to put a roof over my head for a week or two in a motel.

Thank.
