

Who do you want telling your professional story? An English Major only, a Wordsmith? How about a Marketing Guru with 20+ years of experience; crafting your resume, tightening it up; it will flow like melted butter, you will squeal like a piglet in delight when it is done, You will stand-out and Shine! your resume should not just state where you've been but point you in the direction you need to go....there is a difference.

If I can brand the big dogs, I can brand you, and this I would much rather do.

Resume Refresh - $100-$175 (entry-level, college grad, refresh of current resume)

Resumes will need to be written from a branding standpoint. I do research in your industry, we compare this to the jobs in your market, and re-write your resume that will get you results; this includes a refresh in your layout. -- I will meet with you in person and we will hash out your resume; if you go with a service who offers an overnight turn-around and claims they are resume writers, you will get what you pay for. If you want a career/profession not just a job then you need to invest the time and resources necessary to make you stand out.
