There's a ping in your car, would you drive in to any repair shop? You woke up with another ailment, would any quack Dr. do?

Who do you want telling your professional story? An English Major only, a Wordsmith? How about a Marketing Guru with 20+ years of experience; crafting your resume, tightening it up; it will flow like melted butter, you will squeal like a piglet in delight when it is done, You will stand-out and Shine!***** your resume should not just state where you've been but point you in the direction you need to go....there is a difference.

Credentials: BS in Journalism/Marketing, 20+ years in corporate and non-profit marketing, and communications' gigs.

If I can brand the big dogs, I can brand you, and this I would much rather do.

Edits, Updates, Resume Revamps= $50-$100

Resume Refresh - $100-$175 (entry-level, college grad, refresh of current resume)

Partial Rewrite of Resume = $175-$225 (you most likely have an existing resume, but you are not getting any job responses).

Resumes will need to be written from a branding standpoint. I do research in your industry, we compare this to the jobs in your market, and re-write your resume that will get you results; this includes a refresh in your layout. -- I will meet with you in person and we will hash out your resume; if you go with a service who offers an overnight turn-around and claims they are resume writers, you will get what you pay for. If you want a career/profession not just a job then you need to invest the time and resources necessary to make you stand out.
