My fiance' and I are moving into a new apartment and have NOTHING for it. Between the both of us moving and having to get rid of the old stuff all we have is a TV, dresser, and a TV stand :/. We don't have any money to go by anything new, and very little to spend on getting things for the apartment. At this point any and all help we could get would be greatly appreciated. We thank you in advance! :)

We both work nights so please feel free to email or text.
