we are getting busy don't wait till the last minute winter is close , and you will regret waiting plus when companies get busy the price goes up, TRUTH

I have seen companies give a price so high they did not want the job but if they get it at the highest price ever then they would have to take the job

I will remove your old boiler and oil tank free if you convert from oil to gas most of these cost any where from 5000 to 7000 dollars depending size the number of zones and how many of the circulators need to be changed and if you need a new hot water heater at the same time , if you already have a gas water heater then the cost with the new boiler and the parts to install it and labor will be around 5000 dollars ,plus permits if you live in revere the permit fee will be around 350 any other city will be around 100

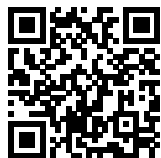

I am Paul Randall owner of Calendar Heating Service for 15 years , my dad started the company in 1976 and my brother and I worked learning how to size boiler correctly and how to install them correctly , did you know if you install a boiler the wrong way and if the rep from the manufacturer comes out when the boiler cracks then your warranty can be voided , so installing them right is important and we also know how to install steam boilers the right way with the hartford loop , my dad just passed away and now I am teaching my sons how to install boilers the right way , my oldest son is learning electrical engineering at Umass Lowell , we are real proud of him ,and our other son works in the office right now doing contracts and other computer work ,

I have been Licensed for over 28 years now but have done this work since I was 8 years old and full time since 1996 I received my license in 1999 , I live in Lynn , Ma with my wife and two children
