My apartment has recently changed it's pet policy and is now kicking out all the cats and dogs (apparently the lease says they can do that.. :(sad). So I am forced to find a new home for the love of my life, he's an adorable all black chihuahua and he had an amazing energetic personality. He LOVES other dogs and loves to play with and meet new people. Not super shaky although loud noises and food do make him a little nervous/ excited. He just has so much love to give and all I want in the world is to see him go to a nice quiet home where he will be nothing but loved. He has been trained with a clicker and positive reinforcement. He knows sit, stay, lay down, come, and his name (Christmas, yes Christmas).

All I ask is that he go to a home where his name won't be changed (he's very responsive to it and it would be confusing for him to change it at this point) and that he goes to a home with no young children. He has never seen anyone younger than 20 so I don't even know how he would react and he is very very small at 3lbs and both parents were only 4 lbs so he won't get much bigger, certainly never big enough to deal with the antics of a child.

I am asking 100$ for all of his things: mini sweatshirts, kennel, blankets, toys, food bowls, bed, and any food or treats he has left. I would honestly give him for free to the right people, I just want him to go to a good.
