Hello I'm looking for a good family to nanny for. I have kids of my own and have four years experience with children between working in daycare centers to watching kids in my home. I'm very reliable and responsible, I have CPR and first aide certification a good driving record and my own car. I don't use drugs of any kind not do I smoke or drink. I can keep to a schedule or be as flexible as needed with household and child needs. I love the outdoors and helping children learn. I'm pretty laid back easy going like to have fun but can provide discipline as needed. I am a Christian and attend church regularly but I don't push that on anyone, I follow and respect how the household is run by the family and would love the chance to become like family to a family. I have references if needed and can start asap. I hope to hear from some of you soon.
