Adorable miniature sofa for the Spoiled er, I mean, Loved Dog....haha....

I had gotten this for my little 10 pound Silky terrier, but she is just a bit too big to stretch out comfortably on it, so there is no use in keeping it any longer. I have only kept it around this long because it is hard for me to let it go...it is just so darned CUTE to look at! Looks just like the real thing! But we have another now, so I can now let go of it...

It is still in new condition, with the tags.....she may have hopped up on it a couple of times total, to check it out, but it ended up just sitting there. I was able to find one that fits her better, so we won't be needing this one.

The cover unzips & can be washed.....The back & wrap around side area is faux leather, with a pouch on the back to store toys, or whatever (a doggie TV Guide, or perhaps a TV Remote Squeakie toy....LOL)....the front area is soft, velvety material. I can't say enough good about this...it looks so much better in real life, as shadows & the faded pictures make the cushion look all warped & rumpled.....it doesn't look like that in real life. It is actually a deep, rich brown color. Also, it may appear larger in these pictures than it actually is, so check the measurements.....it's not all that big, but looks huge in the opening pic. (It's not tiny, just not as big as it may appear) lb. dogs and the big, I'd say, would be more well suited for a room not much smaller than a room or under which the probability of any of these or any breeds.

Measurements: Total outside frame is 25"L X 15"W, but the inside cushioned area is only 18"L X 11.5"W

These beautiful chocolate brown color is a rich/soft, subtle velvet. This is the best thing are very expensive new off the internet. (I've seen this particular one priced upward of $139 + shipping! For real. Hey, it's a real sofa, in miniature...but seriously, this would look classy in any living room!)
