While it will be great to be involved in a serious relationship my work now will not allow me and so I really need at the moment is not to be celibate. There's no substitute for touch. What I'm looking for is a companion to hang out with, talk/vent about the vagaries of the world and have an amazing bedroom experience. In return, I will help you out financially. This way, we can both be relived of stress.

I'm a good looking, fit, single male, eat lean and have a full head of hair. I am respectful, educated, professionally stable, D&D free and emotionally mature. In order for this to work, I need to be convinced that this would be based on mutual physical attraction and true shared sexual desire for each other. If there are any other motives involved, I would not be interested.

So something between NSA and FWB would be the best way to describe what I'm looking for right now.

Finally, I am searching for a discreet, HWP, drug & disease free lady 30 or younger. If you are still reading this and intrigued by it, then please write back with a bit about yourself & a.
