Hello, this kitten has been roaming around my mother's house for months. Shes about 5 months. Following anyone who comes around trying to get some food and shelter. She has even sneaked into my mother's home several times deaperately wanting food, love, and shelter. Unfortunately she cant keep her due to her dog, and neither can I.

Because of the blizzard I decided to bring her into my place for shelter until the storm is over, then she will be back out. I would really love to keep her, but cannot have more pets.

I also bathed her with flea shampoo just in case.

If you wanna help this sweetie pie, please let me know. She is a purring!
