With enhanced performance, refined interior and exceptional fuel efficiency, this AWD Mercedes-Benz is in a class of its own. The C-Class C300 Luxury has been lightly driven and there is little to no wear and tear on this vehicle. The care taken on this gently used vehicle is reflective of the 55,113 miles put on this Mercedes-Benz. Pre-owned doesn't have to mean used. The clean interior of this Mercedes-Benz C-Class makes it one of the nicest you'll find. This 2010 Mercedes-Benz C-Class C300 Luxury is not like every other C-Class. The Mercedes-Benz was equipped with many of the added features that make this vehicle stand out in the automobile crowd and drive with comfort. It's a temporary fix to the exterior to enhance the quality and craftsmanship of the Mercedes-Benz C-Class. Mercedes-Benz offers about three different C-Class models: The 2010 Mercedes-Benz C-Class model is the entry-level for the brand. In particular, the C300 comes complete with the C300 series and the C350. Luxury trims come with a more traditional appearance, with a chrome grille and the Mercedes-Benz' pointed-star hood ornament. Sport trims feature a more prominent grille, a mounted Mercedes-Benz star and AMG body-styling. The Sport trims also feature deeper front and rear aprons, under-door rocker panels, 17-inch twin-spoke wheels, firmer suspension, three-spoke steering wheels and titanium-colored instrument panels. Each sport model also gets unique trim and wheels to fit. The 2010 C63 AMG still stands out as one of the fastest high-performance vehicles available in the United States. Simultaneously, the entry-level C300 carries an affordable MSRP at $33,600. Interesting features of this model are a wide
