As a Recruiter, I have personal experience hiring prospects just like you.

I understand what a typical manager is looking for, and I even know how it feels to be the one looking for a job.

From all of my experience evaluating resumes and cover letters, I found a passion in helping others edit and create their own resumes

My Vision

To guide people along their job searching route by forming this website about every critical thing you can possibly know in the interviewing process.

I've seen so many people make a variety of different mistakes, whether it's on resumes, during interviews, how they speak, how they dress... the list goes on. And not many sites offer extreme, detailed advice on each step in job searching, and those are the big reasons why I started Resume Revision.

I've helped hundreds of people reach their career goals. I offer a full list of services that can help you get your dream job. Take a look at my website to explain in detail what I have to offer as well as how to get started

My fee is $35.00 per hour. I am a reasonable person and I am open to negotiation.
