I found her by my mailboxes. With 2 small children and another on the way, I'm not able to give her the attention she really needs. I keep her outside during the day and she comes in at night. she would make a really good guard dog. she's very sweet and affectionate, yet very protective, but not aggressive. I would love to just give her to a family that has the time to give her the attention she wants and deserves. please contact me at

if you or someone you know can give her the home she.
