Here is it in a nut shell. In two years I have had 3 heart attacks, it really caught up with me two months ago when I lost my job. 3 Children, 16 yr boy, 14 yr girl, and 7 yr boy. Yes it has really taken its tole on me and my family we were not the most when it comes to money to begin with and now as you can imagine it is really building up. I do all if not most of bills online and can provide clear documentation on where any help would be going. Please if there is anything you can do, I have nothing to hide and can show or discuss with you about it.

I have appealed for disability and waiting on a hearing now so hopefully in the next few months I will get that. I feel like I can still work, I just can't work steady like a real job and at someone else's schedule cause of the heart issues that I have now. I just really hope to find something to help me last out til I get my disability, which could happen in the next few.
