SlimeTV is an Internet game show where hunky guys do silly stunts. For some reason, they agree to put on goofy outfits, play games they have no hope of winning, and when they fail their punishment is a trip to the Slime Machine.

We are looking to build on our successful first season, by hosting a head-to-head competition between two guys who know each other in real life. Co-workers, friends, cousins, whatever combination. A lot of the games will be trivia-based and center on how well you know each other. We would also consider boyfriend/girlfriend or husband/wife duos.

All participants must be at least 18-years old, willing to sign a talent release form, be available for over the phone auditions, and be able to travel to our shooting location in El Paso. (We are responsible for all travel associated costs.) This shoot includes NO NUDITY, however it will be marketed to guys who enjoy seeing other guys get messy.

For your trouble, you'll get $500 cold, hard, cash to split between the two of you.

If you're interested, respond to this ad with photos. We look forward to hearing from!!
