Hey!

I just moved up here from Texas for work, and am looking for some hiking/outdoor buddies. I'm not an advanced mountain climber or anything - but thought I'd give this a whirl. I went snowshoeing today up in Rocky Mountain NP and there was literally one other person up there doing that! I've been trying to do the Manitou Springs incline on weekends as well.

Anyways, a tiny bit about me: I'm 35, educated, have a professional job, play guitar, and am pretty normal. Sure, I like going out to Pearl Street, LODO etc, but we had all of that in Austin! I'd like to get out and experience the mountains with some other interested souls. As far as fitness activities go, I like jogging, swimming, hiking, camping, mountain biking, all that good "ing" stuff.

Anyways,

If you have similar interests and would like to start getting into some outdoor activities on weekends, hit me!
