I am looking for someone who would have a couple of hours to spare on a weekday to help two crochet beginners with projects. One is a beginner baby booties with someone that knows basic stitches but can't read patterns well, and the other would be either a beginner scarf or baby blanket with someone that knows nothing about crochet. The projects don't need to get finished. I am just looking for someone to help us get started. I was thinking of meeting at the essex free library, but could meet at another location. I could also send the patterns beforehand. Looking for a time next week (any day but Tuesday), please email me with what you would charge.!
