I NEED a web developer/designer to help build my fashion styling website/online portfolio.

~ A student web designer looking to expand HIS/HER portfolio.

I have purchased a domain and attempted to design my website with a free template provided by godaddy. It was a full days work of constant frustration. I have many ideas on how I want it to look but I have no idea how to make that happen. So thats where your talent comes in! :))

Site must be responsive and must take into account mobile devices.

I agree on this exchange: offering a free (possible low compensation) website design to 1 person in exchange for review & permission to use it in his/her portfolio.

I am very eager and WANT to get started ASAP.
Please send links of previous work in your email as well as a little bit about you.

Thanks so much

xx. Ashley
