* JPG Property Management Proposal

- I believe my gardening business would be ideal for helping both homeowners and real-estate agents sell property. I have seen many houses for sale with overgrown gardens and dying plants because there is no one to maintain the flower beds.

- We would save you a lot of money because we specialize in horticulture, whereas most yard-care services only mow lawns or install landscaping. The nurseries that do offer maintenance primarily focus on large-scale projects, which is why they have to overcharge for the specialty services that we offer at an affordable price.

- This would surely help you sell a lot of property and in some cases, even improve property value. Several of our clients own rental properties as well, and our services have kept their tenants pleased on many occasions.
