I conduct much of my practice from my home office, as such, I work exclusively with secure portals, phone, email, fax and with clients comfortable using online methods to conduct business. I believe that much of what is needed to perform your accounting and tax work most effectively and efficiently is done with modern technology. I believe this allows me to keep my fees lower while still producing quality work.

However, I know that not everyone is comfortable doing business with someone 100% online, and as such, I would be happy to meet with you as an initial in-person meeting.
