In December we purchased a baby box turtle and absolutley love him. I have experience with adult Russian Tortoises' and assumed that they were the same; however I was very wrong. He is a baby about 4 or 5 months old. I need Rocket to go into an experienced home that has the time to handle him everyday. We both work so he only is handled about every other day. He is currently hibernating and sleeps a lot. He wakes up to soak in his "tub" and to eat then he goes back to sleep. He eats mealworms, waxworms and dubais. He did not seem interested in crickets but I think it is because he is so small still. We are looking for Rocket to go into a home that has box turtle experience! We are not in a rush for him to go into a home any time soon so I will be very picky who he goes with.

We are looking for a $200 re-homing fee which includes his house which he should be able to stay in at least for a few years. He has two heating lamps (One for day and one for night) we just bought new day and night bulbs which last about a month and a half. He has his soaking tub and a hide a way log and also my boyfriend made his an additional hide a way thing that he enjoys sleeping under. He will also come with his humidifer to help keep it moist. And the remaining food. We also use coconut shredding for his bedding and we have a brand new box of that.

If you are interested in adopting Rocket please email me your in detail your experience with box turtles. I look forward to hearing from.
