Hello! I am a single mother with a very sweet loving little boy and we are looking for a puppy to add to our family. We would love a small breed, a puppy preferably so my son and his dog could grow up together.

We relocated from Los Angeles to a farm out here in CO and we feel incomplete without a family pet. We have a wonderful Vet and we would love and spoil a fur baby so much. We spend a lot of time outdoors and we would take our puppy every where with us.

We would love to find someone who is trying to find a home for a puppy without a fee (this doesn't mean that we can't afford to give the dog the best care/life possible, just that most of the rehoming fees I see on here are so crazy expensive - woah!). I was working with National Mill Dog Rescue but they rarely adopt dogs out to families with children under 10. So we have been placed on the back burner there until they possibly find a dog that they would adopt out to a family with a little one. It's hard to wait when we just feel so incomplete without a fur baby to love.

Looking forward to hearing from!
