Hello,

Thrive Industries is starting a news press and we are looking for passionate writers to publish. We want to cover topics like music, film, fashion, art, current events, and politics in Delaware. The idea to spread awareness of the arts in Delaware. This is not a paid gig, but my company also works as an advertisement agency and if we can get sponsors writers would be compensated.

Here is what I have set up so far - http://thrive-industries.com/news
