

MEET JAMESON, THE LOVING, TRAINED LABPIT (501c3)

Location Connecticut

Handsome Jameson is a professionally trained, hard-working sweetheart looking for his forever home. He gets on well with people, but is particular about his animal friends: he would enjoy living with the right canine companion, but cats are not his favorite critters!

Jameson loves to be by your side with a big bone but will also love long walks and playing in a yard. He gives hugs and kisses and will be the most loyal companion you could ask for. This goofy boy has the personality of a puppy, but is a mature gentlemen with beautiful red coat, when ask to be. Jameson is very smart and also loves to play games and can learn new commands very quickly.

A country boy at heart, Jameson would thrive in a suburban or rural setting away from the stresses of the rat race and is best suited to living with children 12 years or older. He would particularly love an experienced owner willing and able to continue the training he enjoys so much. In fact, his current trainers are so fond of him, and so invested in finding him the perfect forever home that they are offering follow-up training (if necessary) at no additional cost.

Can you give Jameson the wonderful home he deserves? Please contact Lynda to get to know this loyal and loving guy!
