I had a friend who was deeply connected with me on spiritual levels.
 When one of us used to think of the other,
 the phone would ring.
 We would finish each others sentences -
 we were in tune with each other and had many common beliefs and practices.
 We showed up in each others dreams at times, and past life regression sessions too.....

now, I moved to the rock, and I'm missing that deep connection with others....
 Oh, I've met some incredible people here, but I long for that depth of connection - that's what I'm missing

This isn't just 'island fever', this is a call for deep connections - far reaching into the depths of our being type of connections - spiritual connections with other people do you know what I mean ?

 can u relate ?
 human being connections, not just angels and guides, ya' know ?
