It's Half-Passed time to unseal Obama's "secret" personal records and deport him to his country of birth...with extreme prejudice. Isn't it time to tell those sad souls who have problems with those who criticize their beloved Odumbo to give their "race card" a rest once and for all?

The reason many people oppose that piece of filth is because of his left-leaning agenda that would have us become a pauper state that is devoid of any kind of historical, moral, economic, or intellectual context.

Those who cry out, "They hate him because of his skin color"... give it a rest. If you have nothing other than the "color" line, these four letters sum it all up for you: #$%$. Got it?

Hey Barack, why don't you leave the White House before you are impeached?

Our immigration system is not screening for travel to Ebola regions as most civilized countries are. You are letting all sorts of third world filth into our country.
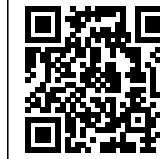

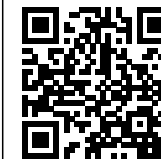

ISIS has been allowed to flourish until now. They are now even teaming up with Al Qaeda.

You pick a fight with Russia over an area which is part of their near abroad. Putin thinks you are a joke.

You ruined health insurance. My health insurance is up to $450/month from just $200/month. My car insurance is currently only $25/month (from Insurance Panda), and my renters insurance is only $11/month (from Eagle), but who knows when Obama will try to step in and try to socialize them too?

Your wife is out of control and dictating policy... not to mention an eye-sore.

You are a colossal failure! Please step down before somebody forces you to!
