Lenny is a sweet cat who is friendly and affectionate to all people. He is fine with dogs and/or a female cat. More than that and he gets upset. He also seems to dislike other male cats. That's not a bad thing, except I have 2 female cats, another male cat AND a dog, and Lenny is just not having it. I think he deserves a home where he can be happy and not feel like he has to compete for attention. He's a beautiful 4 year old black cat with white spots on his belly and flecks of white all over his coat. He will hang out in the room with you, but isn't overbearing. He also comes running when called! I love this guy and I wish I could make him and the others get along, but after trying for 2 years, I've decided it just isn't fair to any of my pets to keep him here. So if you want a cat who will be your best friend and have plenty of love to give, Lenny is the cat for!
