Have you ever had a problem with ALCOHOL? (Philadelphia, PA)

Researchers at the University of Pennsylvania Treatment Research Center are looking for people with a history of alcohol dependence to participate in a research study about family history and genetics. You do not have to be using alcohol currently.

Participation includes doing an interview and giving a blood sample.

If you are eligible, you could be paid to participate in research to help understand the causes of Alcohol Dependence.

For more information, contact Dr. Kranzler's study team @ ext. 173
All calls are.
