We are realizing that our new little puppy would be happier in a home as the only dog. He doesn't seem to like our older female dog. He has done very well meeting and greeting new dogs, and he is amazing with people. We love this little man and want a great home for him. We are asking a rehoming fee of $300. Experienced dog owners preferred. He has food, a bed, bowls, collars, a clicker trainer, toys and some other accessories that will come with him. I wish we could keep him because he will make someone an awesome companion, but we owe that companionship to our female and right now, neither of them are happy. I can come to you if reasonably close to.
