Hello. I write and draw for a small webcomic series on tumblr, and am hoping to do a mini-series at the end of April / beginning of May about the New Year's resolutions that we haven't kept. I am looking for anonymous one- or two-sentence stories I can use for the project. An example might be, I made a resolution to read a book every month, but I just wound up watching television. Or, I wanted to eat better in 2015, but I also learned to make cheesecake.

Humorous stories are preferred, but any contribution is appreciated.

Submission are voluntary and no identifying information is used. If you provide me with an email address -- even the relay one CL uses is fine -- and I choose your story to draw, I will try to send you a link to the finished comic.

So, Craigslist...what resolutions did you make for 2015 that are starting to fall by the?
