85 degree weather... Clear skies... Nice breeze that cools your skin off... Smell of fresh grass being cut... I look at my watch, and it reads 2:45pm... 15 minutes before I no longer see daylight... 15 minutes before my beautiful view turns to dust... 15 minutes before I have to clock in at my warehouse job... Packing and unloading trucks... Box after box... After box... After box... Until my watch reads 12:00am... Maybe even 2:00am some nights... 5 days a week... Body aching... Exhausted... Thinking to myself, "This can't be life"... Don't get me wrong, money/benefits are good, but this can't be how I'll live my life...

I'm 27 and I want more out of my life... I've been blessed to find an opportunity that allows the average person to live an above average lifestyle... You may or may not have heard of it... But to me, this company's system makes a whole lot of sense... I can't do this by myself though... I need a team... I need people like me... Who may not have been fortunate w/ a great job... who see more out of life than their current situation... Who's not scare to take a risk... Who wants the best for their family... Together we can make it...

I'm searching for candidates all over the US... I'm going to form this team regardless... Reply back if you are like minded, and don't mind helping other people build a business that we all...
