Hi everyone I am a single mom receiving no child support and I work full time and don't get help from the county. My bills are paid. We have food. I am not looking for a handout... But I obviously lack creativity and could use some ideas. Even though all our necessities are met there are some extras I would like to be able to give my kids this summer that I just can't afford to in my current financial status (a couple camps, a trip to see family out of state etc) These are things we obviously could live without so I could do without the nasty emails telling me to just tell my spoiled kids no. Trust me my kids are not spoiled and hear and accept no often and graciously. That is why I Would like to be able to say yes to these things. However I need help coming up with ideas to make money. I do work full time and homeschool so adding in a part time job even temporarily feels very impossible right now. I'm not a sales person so most of these sell things from home opportunities just are not my thing. I've scoured the ads here on cl for gigs etc but most of them are too far or not in my skill set Before I give up completely I am hoping someone with more creativity will be able to offer money making
