I have a few openings and I am currently accepting applications for school age students. I own an in home daycare in Edmond called Lofty Ideas. I have multiple years experience in daycare and public schools. I am certified teacher with a bachelors in Elementary Education, my business is DHS certified, and I am CPR certified. I am enrolling only school aged children (4-12) because I feel I can offer the most for this age group. And while I am able to have up to 7 children, I will not fill to capacity to ensure a better experience for your child.

If you'd like to learn more about my business, my phone number is listed in the "Reply" box and you can also visit my website.
