3 Separate home sites, one with a house, in beautiful Centennial, Wyoming.

Motivated seller due to health problems and age.

1. Home building site - near town water and sewage lines, electric power near. Site is 52' wide and 132' long -- 6864 sq. ft. Corner lot. No building codes or covenants. Asking $32,200.

2. Home building site - 6 lots 456' wide by 132' long, 20,502 sq. ft. Can develop as one home site or three separate adjoining house sites. No building codes or covenants. Asking $106,200.

3. House/housesite - Best view of mountains and prairie in Centennial. House is on top of hill, facing south, overlooking the town of Centennial. Large aspen trees, too. Includes unfinished, funky house 1092 sq. ft. House is connected to town water, sewer, and power. Parcel is 6 lots 20,502 sq. ft. bordered by two 80' wide town streets. Price negotiable.

All town streets in Centennial are 80' wide with no codes or covenants governing their use. As long as you provide access to neighboring land, you have use of platted but not-yet-developed town streets to store vehicles, snowmobiles, toys and woodpiles (essentially, bonus land). All properties offer great view of mountains and Centennial Valley, and, to the south, some of the larger peaks in Rocky Mountain National Park.

Centennial, Wyoming is a small town on Highway 130, at the edge of the Medicine Bow National Forest. The properties are located just off the Snowy Range Rd. (Hwy 130) which has been called one of the most beautiful scenic byways in the US. The town is where the high plains meet the Rockies and offers great expansive vistas and open plains elevation 8,000') that are heavily forested mountains, alpine tundra (12,000'+) in 12 short miles. The lots sit 27 miles from Laramie, home of the University of Wyoming which offers the amenities and culture of some of the larger towns in Wyoming, yet is far enough removed that you can exult in peace and quiet under clear, starry skies on the front porch.

Centennial is an outstanding location for outdoors enthusiasts and active retirees. You can go right out the back door onto an extensive network of trails in the beautiful Snowy Range in the Medicine Bow National Forest. Excellent for hiking, mountain biking, skiing, horse-packing, hunting, fishing,
