I am a touring musician, currently playing in Key West for the winter, who also practices sound healing and Reiki. I am putting the finishing touches on a unique sound healing CD that blends toning and sacred music with modern songs.

You can check it out here:

I am working on a summer tour and seeking someone to help support me and the project. It is special work, that I think is truly needed and I am excited to share the healing potential of sound and this music.

I'm looking for someone to join me and help in all the things necessary to make it a successful tour. There is a lot! The tour will start May 14th or so and will run from Florida out to New Mexico and Colorado and then out to California and then eventually, back to Florida.

Duties would primarily include marketing and promoting the shows as well as booking. If you have the desire and ability to come on the road with me, then you could help in documenting the tour with video and stills.

It's important that you are somewhat health and environmentally conscious as well as interested in this work and the spiritual side of things. If you have the ability and time to travel, and are eager to collaborate on a new healing music journey, please get in touch. I will be happy answer any questions you may have and share more of the vision and intentions of the tour if we can work together.

OUR tour is a subject that is a spark of a scammer.

Thanks for looking.
