Looking for a student or someone who is beginning to develop apps for android and iOS. I have a relatively simple app that I need to have developed which pushes data to a server.

How simple you ask? This is all that needs to be done:

1.) Collects users single select input
2.) Collects users GPS location (using jquery)
3.) Collects their phone # (using jquery)
4.) Hand those 3 pieces of information off to a server

Once it's pushed to a server, I can handle it from there.

This has a chance to be a huge success within the modern 911 industry.

Would like to meet with someone local in the Manchester area. In exchange, I can teach you programming (php/mysql,cpanel,whm,rss/xml,curl, and so much more)

Please send a brief couple of lines about you and a phone number.

Overseas or out of state responses need not apply - they will be.
