Man,I'm in a bind. See, I've got so many AWESOME ideas, which, once carefully and collectively established, would generate, not only awesome revenue, and a large fan base but also would be a MASTERPIECE.

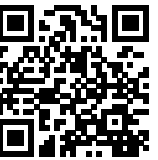

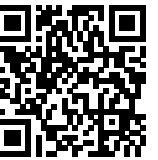

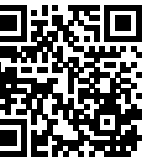

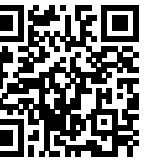

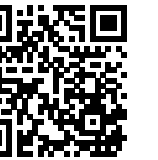

My projects I'm set to and HAVE been set to commit for quite some time now, but my partners always seem to flake on me.

I need an individual(s) who are somewhat apt in photography, digital design: Adobe Photoshop/Illustrator etc., Also, you've got to have the free time for small meetings/conferences and the commitment to our projects. And mostly, you have to be okay with doing the grunt work with me, knowing our time will DEFINITELY come.

I'm embarking on a project involving printing graphic tees, several graphic novel series, and also a short childrens' story. As of now, I'm stuck with story and character design development, but I'm pretty much 75% prepared.

So that makes this message open to models, photographers, designers, writers & if you're 420 friendly, then most definitely hop on board, because youd have to be able to relate to some of the project concepts.

I do have legal contracts to protect our creations and assets, should we by any chance have to part our ways. I am; however, seeking an ON-GOING partner, if possible. Feel free to email me: seraphym_sol=AT=yahoo=DOT
