Hello,

Thank you for reading my post. I'm a single mother to a three year old little boy. His father gave him this puppy at Christmas and decided to send him over to my apartment. I knew this was going to be too much time and commitment but did not want his father to send this sweet boy we names coco to the pound. He is around seven months old is partially house trained (we are still working on it) and is as sweet as can be. He is not up to date on any shots and is not neutered. I realize this is a negative but really want to give him the home he deserves. There will be no rehoming fee just free to a good home. If interested please contact me. Thank!
