I am offering affordable private instruction in violin and viola (beginner to advanced) as well as cello (beginner to intermediate). I also provide instruction in music theory, harmonization, composition, and performance/audition preparation.

I just recently moved to Seattle from New York City where I served as the concertmaster of the Greenwich Village Orchestra as well as founder of the Hayden Music Academy. I have also performed in numerous professional orchestras and music festivals both in the US and overseas.

I have been performing for over 30 years and have taught countless students of all ages and ability levels. I adopt an individualized approach to each student as I do not believe in a "one-size-fits-all" paradigm when it comes to teaching. Upon request I can provide outstanding recommendations from satisfied parents as well as adult students whom I have taught in the past.

I am in the process of building my private student roster here in Seattle and have several openings at this time. I teach both in-studio and in-home lessons. My studio is conveniently located between downtown Seattle and Capitol Hill. In-home lessons are available for an additional fee in select neighborhoods. THE FIRST LESSON IS FREE OF CHARGE. For more information please contact me at the email address listed above, or visit my website at www.haydenmusicacademy.com.

Neighborhoods where in-home lessons are taught: Downtown Seattle, Belltown, Denny Triangle, Capitol Hill, West Seattle, Lower Queen Anne, South Lake Union, Central District, First Hill, Eastlake, Montlake, Madrona, Washington Park, Madison Park, U-District, Fremont, Wallingford, Greenlake, Roosevelt, Magnolia, Ballard. See website for applicable lesson.
